HOOVER MAY DEFEND
SECRETARY BEFORE
ATTACKS IN SENATE

President Is Also Watching
Mexico Revolt
Closely

WASHINGTON, March 6.—President Hoover may be called upon, it appeared today, to defend a cabinet appointment in which he had perhaps less personal interest than any he made, that of Secretary of Treasury Mellon.

It is highly improbable that the indirect attack on Mellon by the McMillan resolution which the senate passed yesterday will result in anything more than considerable publicity to criticism that has flared forth, intermittently, from certain senators, but repeated出burst might prove very embarrassing to President Hoover.

The resolution, sponsored by Senator McMillan, Dem., Tenn., authorized an investigation by the senate judiciary committee as to whether Mellon's name should not have been re-submitted to the senate and as to whether the aged treasury department head had violated a section of the United States code forbidding holding of stock by secretary of the treasury in liquor concerns.

The latter change has particular significance as regards the new administration because of the strong stand taken by President Hoover and his announced intention of transferring prohibition enforcement activities from the treasury to the justice department.

The Mellon incident shared the spotlight on the new administration today with the Mexican revolution, which the president is watching closely, and with a conference he had scheduled today with Republican Floor Leader Tilson of the house in which it is understood a date for the special session of congress will be set.

President Hoover, it was generally understood, withheld the nomination of Mellon from the senate in order to avoid a fight on his re-appointment by McMillan and others who have attacked the treasury secretary.

There is no prospect of any immediate action of any kind.

Senator Norris, who is chairman of the judiciary committee, announced the inquiry will not be made until the senate re-convenes for the extra session in April.

President Hoover is keeping close surveillance of the Mexican revolution developments through repeated conferences with Secretary of State Kellogg, who will hold office until Henry L. Stimson arrives here the end of March.

Attention was directed to the prohibition problem in an announcement from the White House. Mr. Hoover will take up within a few days with Attorney General Mitchell the constitution of the investigating commission, and in warm praise for his prohibition stand in a resolution adopted by the executive committee of the anti-saloon league.

Today and tomorrow there will be a repetition of the scene at the White House on the opening day of the administration yesterday—one delegation after another, from states far and near, trailing into the executive offices to shake hands with the new president.

It was such a "house-warming" as has not been seen here in many years. Rain-coated, fur-coated, black and white, old and young, they came, to the number of about 2,800, which set a new record for handshaking, according to Police Sergeant C. L. Dalrymple, who has been on duty at the White House thirty years and is assisted in handling the crowd by Sergeant "Larry" Semen, another old timer.

The president announced he expected to keep free contact with the press, would continue to hold the semi-weekly newspaper conferences, and would attempt to amplify the method for the greater convenience of the press and the public.

PLANS EDUCATION FOR AFFLICTED

COLUMBUS, O., March 6.—Vocational education will be provided for the state's blind and deaf if the house approves a bill sent to it today by the state senate.

The bill—sponsored by Senator Clarion L. Shaffer of Van Wert, himself blind—was passed by the senate late yesterday.

Senator Shaffer, speaking on behalf of his bill, pointed out the handicaps which the blind, deaf and otherwise afflicted have to overcome in competing with the normal.

The senator described his own education which started in the state school for the blind fifty years ago.

HOUSE FAVERS BILL ELIMINATING AUTO RURAL SPEED LIMIT

Fixes "Reasonable"
Speed For Autos Outside Cities

COLUMBUS, O., March 6.—Approved by the house of representatives, the bill by Rep. Elmer E. Boden, Akron, to abolish the automobile speed limit outside cities, was on its way to the state senate today for consideration.

The house passed the bill by vote of 99 to 11, after an extended debate and as approved the bill provides that an automobile shall not be operated outside municipalities "at a speed greater or less than is reasonable or proper, having due regard to traffic, surface and width of the road."

An additional limitation specifies that under no circumstances shall the speed be greater than will permit the driver to bring his automobile to a stop "within the visible, clear distance ahead." Two changes are made in the present speed limits inside cities. The present limit of fifteen miles an hour in congested districts is raised to twenty miles and the present twenty-five mile limit outside closely built up city districts is boosted to thirty-five miles an hour.

This bill, in effect, eliminates and entirely removes the present technical speed limitation of automobiles outside cities," Rep. Boden told the house in urging passage of the measure.

"The present law makes a speed of greater than thirty-five miles an hour prima facie evidence of reckless driving. That places the burden of proof on the driver, requiring him to show that he was not driving recklessly. I am convinced that striking out of this technical limitation would operate for greater safety than does the present law."

The house defeated amendments proposed by Rep. B. L. Creasy, Ashtabula County, to abolish the speed limits inside municipalities and to limit the speed to ten miles an hour when approaching school buses taking on or unloading passengers.

Another automobile bill by Rep. Boden, aimed at "skip-trip" drivers, was approved by the house without an opposing vote. It requires drivers to stop after accidents or collisions and to give their names, addresses and license numbers upon request, and makes failure to do so punishable by fine of not to exceed $200, imprisonment for six months, or both.

A bill by Rep. George M. Forney, Hancock County, to provide four-year terms for township trustees, was killed in the house by vote of 65 to 48. The opposition came primarily from members representing rural counties, who voiced antagonism to any "term-extender" legislation.

Not an opposing vote was cast against a bill by Rep. Dallas Sullivan, Union County, providing that county commissioners shall appropriate $50 annually to patriotic organizations to finance Memorial Day observances.

BARBER AND ACTOR DIES FOR MURDER

BOSTON, Mass., March 6.—George E. H. Taylor, who danced and cut hair to make his living, died in the electric chair at Charlestown State Prison early today for the murder of Miss Stella Pomikala of Lawrence, Mass.

The man who wandered away from his home in Cleveland, O., years ago and lived the eventual life of a vagabond barber and itinerant vaudevillian, died calmly.

With a wave of his hand, he declined dinner last evening, and when midnight came he walked steadily from his cell to the execution chamber and sat down in the electric chair. Eight minutes later he was dead.

TWO MEMBERS OF ARNOLD FAMILY WILL BE TRIED FOR KIDNAPING

WOOSTER, O., March 6.—Only two of the five members of the Arnold family indicted for child stealing in the Horst case—Arthur Arnold and his father, Junior Hanna—is to be the star witness in the case, Graven reported today.

A. D. Metz, counsel for the Arnolds, has demanded that the indictments against William Arnold, and Dorothy and Bascom McComb McHenry, be quashed, and when the prosecutor's office so far has refused to accede.

Graven, Special Prosecutor Waller J. Mougey and Ora M. Slater, special detective, declare they have sufficient evidence to convict Arthur Arnold and his father, Junior Hanna is to be the star witness in the case, Graven reported today.

Several lines of inquiry, omitting the Arnolds, have been followed during the last two weeks, and all have failed.

Considerable difficulty is expected in procuring a jury because of the widespread interest in the mystery surrounding the four-year-old Melvin Horst and those responsible for his disappearance.

The senator described his own education which started in the state school for the blind fifty years ago.

THOMAS TAGGART CALLED BY DEATH

THOMAS TAGGART

Thomas Taggart, former Xenian, who later rose to fortune and political fame in Indiana, died at his home in Indianapolis Wednesday according to word received here.

Rebel Leader Declares People Support Revolt

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following statement giving the aims of the rebellion in Mexico was written for the United Press by Gen. Jesus M. Aguirre, military leader of the movement in the state of Vera Cruz. Gen. Aguirre contends that the revolt, of which Gen. Gonzales Escobar, of Coahuila, is commander-in-chief, has the support of the navy and the people of nearly a dozen states. Its aims, he contends, are not to support any particular candidate, but to overthrow the Calles-Portes Gil regime and insure an open election. He promises complete religious freedom and political liberty.)

The revolutionary movement has been seconded by the states of Sonora, Sinaloa, Chihuahua, Coahuila, Durango and Nayarit, and we count on the support of numerous elements among the discontented people of Michoacan, Jalisco, Guanajuato and northern Guanajuato. The troops under my command have not been in combat with the forces concentrated near Mexico City to protect the retreat of Calles and Portes Gil, probably by way of Acapulco.

The navy under command of Commodore Hiram Hernandez, also seconds enthusiastically our cause.

Perfect calm prevails in the state of Vera Cruz. All municipal authorities continue in their posts. The people are quiet and confident of victory, backing our movement begun March 3.

Regarding the religious question, the intentions of this movement are to establish a government that will respect all religious beliefs. Foreign obligations also will be respected.

The justice of our cause will assure our victory.

ADmits INSURGENT VICTORIES; LOYAL FORCES ADVANCING

America Will Aid Fed-
erals; Revolt Considered Serious

WASHINGTON, March 6.—The American embassy at Mexico City has informed this government that it probably will be necessary for President Portes Gil to import arms from the United States to cope with the current rebellion, the United Press learned today.

No request has been received today it was said at the state department, for license to permit arms to be sent across the border.

In view of yesterday's White House announcement relative to interpretation of the arms embargo in effect against Mexico it was understood that any request from the Mexican government would be immediately honored.

The government admitted insurgent victories in severe fighting on the northern front. Gen. J. Gonzales Escobar, chief rebel leader, captured Monterey, Nuevo Leon, after a battle in which a number of soldiers were killed, including the federal commander Gen. Rodriguez Zuriga.

At the same time the rebel movement toward the capital was pushed vigorously in the west coast area, where Gen. Francisco Manzo was advancing with rebel troops from Navarone, in the state of Sonora, to the town of San Bias, according to an official announcement here.

Manzo was almost to the border of the state of Sinaloa where federal forces under Gen. Jaime Carrillo were attempting to slow up

THREE DROWNED AS COUPE FALLS INTO RAIN FILLED CREEK

Two Girls Escape Before Machine Is Submerged

COVINGTON, Ky., March 6.—The story of how three men were swept to death in the swollen waters of Dry Creek, near Covington, Ky., late yesterday, was related here today by two girls who had gone riding with the victims.

The five were crowded into a small coupe and were driving along a flooded road near Covington when the car slipped from the highway, plunged forward and stuck with the front wheels suspended over the creek bank.

The three men—Walter Foley, 25; William B. Cavanaugh, 28, and Lawrence Carruthers, 24—broke the glass from the coupe doors and helped the girls to safety.

No sooner had the girls, Mary Bryan, 16, and Marian Young, 21, reached the ground than the car, overbalanced from their weight, tumbled forward into the creek.

The car was submerged. A rescue party was quickly assembled but when the machine was lifted clear with grappling hooks, the three men were dead.

Apparently the men made frantic efforts to crawl from the submerged machine.

The girls said they met the three men in Cincinnati yesterday and decided to take a ride. They crossed the river into Covington, then drove toward Covington.

The creek had been swollen by heavy rains and the water extended over the road. Carruthers was driving. He was a yard clerk for the C. and O. Foley was a fireman for the B. and O. and Cavanaugh was a machinist.

Police and firemen's pension bills, by Senator Bender, slated for vote in senate.

Bill to repeal law providing "closed" season in squirrels in odd years, up for passage in house.

Hadden resolution, proposing "classification" amendment to constitution, on house calendar.

PLAYERS OVERDUE

ORLANDO, Fla., March 6.—Six players were overdue at the training camp of the Cincinnati Reds here today. Two of these still are unsigned.

VERA CRUZ, Mexico, March 6.—The reasons for the movement begun in the republic by General Gonzalo Escobar, chief of the cause of liberation, are the open and insulting methods by which Plutarco Calles and Emilio Portes Gil are trying to impose Pascual Ortiz Rubio on the people as president.

BY SUCH METHODS THEY ARE NULLIFYING THE RIGHT OF SUFFRAGE AND SEEKING TO CONTINUE THEIR IGNORABLE POLICIES UNDER WHICH PUBLIC LIBERTIES HAVE DISAPPEARED. THE INTOLERABLE AND IMPUDENT POLITICAL AND GOVERNMENTAL CLIQUE LED BY CALLES HAS COMMERCIALIZED THE ADMINISTRATION TO ITS OWN ADVANTAGE. THUS THEY HAVE DERAUDED THE JUST AMBITION OF THE PEOPLE, WHO HAVE THE RIGHT TO HAPPINESS AFTER EIGHTEEN YEARS OF STRUGGLE AND SUFFERING.

THE ARBITRARY ACTIONS OF THIS DESPOTIC GOVERNMENT, IN WHICH THE FIRST MANDATORY, PORTES GIL, WAS THE PUPPET OF THIS POLITICAL CLIQUE, HAVE ABUSED THE SOVEREIGNTY OF THE STATES BY TRYING TO IMPOSE VORACIOUS AND UNPOPULAR POLITICIANS.

WE REBEL AGAINST THIS GOVERNMENT OF IMPOSITION OF THE CENTER.

from stomach and intestinal pains; any food she ate caused reactions and brought on nervousness. The pain in the intestines grew worse and caused her to often cry out and pass many sleepless nights. She complained of terrible headaches and dizziness and pains in her back. Proper rest and sleep were almost impossible. She spent many a night in agony and tears and gradually began to become rundown and lose weight.

"I was worried over her as every remedy we tried only gave her temporary relief. And then I read about Konjola! A miracle seems to have taken place. Relief came after the second bottle. She began to get a full night's rest and food did not disturb her. After the third bottle her health troubles vanished one by one and now she is gaining weight and feeling better every day. I think it a wonderful medicine and cannot praise it enough."

Konjola is different from any other known remedy in this section. It contains 22 juices extracted from natural plants, which invigorate the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels to a more healthy action. The effect of Konjola on the entire system brings amazing relief in cases of suffering that has been going on for years. At the same time, many weak and rundown systems have been restored to a new state of health thru this compound. Such a vast number of men and women in this city have told of their experience with this new medical product, until now, Konjola is the most highly indorsed medicine that is known in this vicinity.

Konjola is sold in Xenia at the Gallaher Drug Store, and by all the best druggists throughout this entire section. Adv.

DIVORCE SOUGHT BY ONE WIFE; ANOTHER IS GRANTED DECREE

Divorce is sought in a suit filed in Common Pleas Court against Revelle Hurley by Mabelle Hurley, who charges wilful absence from home for more than three years and gross neglect of duty. They were married April 4, 1919. The plaintiff seeks custody of their minor child, Forest Reyburn Hurley, 8.

GIVEN DIVORCE

Lillian Walker has been awarded a divorce from Alonso Walker in Common Pleas Court and was also granted exclusive custody of their minor child, the amount to be paid for its support being left to Juvenile Court for final decision.

FILES PETITION IN ERROR

D. W. Swindler has filed a petition in error in Common Pleas Court seeking to set aside a judgment recovered against him by Florence M. Bell March 2 in the court of R. O. Copsey, justice of the peace, in a forcible detainer action.

The plaintiff in error, through Attorney E. D. Smith, sets forth four general grounds of alleged error by the court and also charges prejudice on the part of one of the jurors, whom he claims went to the defendant in error's home the day following the trial and spent the afternoon visiting there.

SUSTAINS MOTION

In the case of L. M. Morton, doing business as The Xenia Mercantile Co., against Alex Scrivens and Daniel Scrivens in Common Pleas Court, motion of the defendant, Alex Scrivens, to dissolve the order of attachment heretofore issued in the case, has been sustained by the court.

NAMED GUARDIAN

L. L. Taylor has been appointed guardian of the person and estate of Mary Harner and has qualified for the position by filing bond of $4,000 in Probate Court.

ORDER STOCK SALE

On application of J. A. Finney, as administrator of the estate of Nannie A. Ross, deceased, private sale of five shares of preferred stock of The Hooven and Allison Co., belonging to the estate, at not less than its market value of $88 a share, has been authorized in Probate Court.

Miss Allen Honored By Missionary Society

MISS Clara Allen, prominent for many years in missionary work in connection with the First M. E. Church, was the center of much interest Monday night at the home of Mrs. R. W. Irwin, N. Galloway St., where the Second Auxiliary voted to change its name to the "Clara Allen Auxiliary of the Woman's Home Missionary Society," in honor of its founder, who almost fifty years ago organized a small group of young girls into what was then called a "mission board."

This band was in fact launched on its missionary career some little time before the organization of the national body of the W. H. M. S., which celebrates its fiftieth anniversary in 1930, the local band becoming a member, later, of the national society.

Miss Allen, who has been ill, was not present at Monday night's meeting, but was notified Tuesday night of the action of the auxiliary, which came as a complete surprise, by a committee of four, who presented her a beautiful basket of roses, with the following note:

Dear Miss Allen:

This basket of roses is trying to tell you how much the members of the Second Auxiliary love and honor you for your many years of

SENIORS PLANNING BUCCANEER HOP

The "Buccaneer Hop" honoring the 1928-29 Central High basketball team—Miami Valley League champs, will be held in the gymnasium of the high school Friday night, March 15. The affair will be the third social event of the school year and students are looking forward to it with great interest. Much mystery surrounds the program being planned by the committee of which Robert Buell is chairman. Other members of the committee are: Charles Wood and Misses Helen Currie, Dora Hayward, and Mildred Waddle. The senior class will act as host to the student body.

The degree chapter of the Phoenix Rebekah Lodge is asking all members of the staff who expect to keep their places in initiative work to be present at the regular meeting Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

The Ladies Aid Society of the First Presbyterian Church will meet Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Addison Ledbetter, N. Galloway St. Important business is to be transacted and election of officers will take place. A large attendance is desired.

The Paintersville-Bowersville Sunday School Unit will meet at Paintersville, Sunday afternoon. The nature of the meeting is to start planning for the big county conference of this year. It is important that each Sunday School of the unit be represented. A good speaker will be on hand for the afternoon and a good attendance is urged.

Probate Judge S. C. Wright addressed the Men's League of the Wilmington Friends' Church at the monthly meeting Monday night, speaking on the subject of "Christian Citizenship."

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Myers, Fayette St., and Mrs. Harold Summers of High St., left Tuesday for Serpent Mound, being called there by the death of their niece, Miss Helen Wallace.

A. C. Turrell Union, W. C. T. U. will hold a meeting at 2 p.m. Friday at the home of Mrs. H. C. Autman, W. Market St. An interesting program has been arranged and will include talks by Mrs. C. L. Gowdy on "Torch-Bearing Women," and Mrs. J. C. Marshall on "Anti-Narcotics." Members are to come prepared to speak.

Mr. and Mrs. Harper Kepler and Mrs. Lewis Gregg left Monday night for Chicago, where they will spend several days.

Pupils and teachers of Hawkins school were privileged to hear the inaugural exercises at Washington Monday, through the courtesy of the Miller Electric Shop, which furnished the radio.

INSTEAD of exercise

Millions of busy men and women are keeping themselves in perfect condition nowadays because they've learned the secret of the exerciser in the vest-pocket box for a dime.

Cascarets give your bowels as much exercise as you get from an hour's hard play. They give you lasting relief from headaches, biliousness, constipation, indigestion, etc. Each time you use them, your bowels become stronger. Oils, salts, and ordinary laxatives produce only mechanical or chemical action, which actually weakens the bowels.

Cascarets are made from Cascara Sagrada, which stimulates the peristaltic action and exercises the bowel muscles. Nothing else does this. That's why Cascarets are selling at the rate of 20 million boxes a year!

MISS MARGARET M'DONNELL IS LEGION ESSAY CONTEST WINNER

Miss Margaret F. McDonnell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. McDonnell and a pupil at St. Brigid Parochial High School won first prize in the essay contest conducted by Foody Post, American Legion, it was announced Wednesday by Paul Fuller, chairman of the Legion contest committee.

Miss McDonnell will be presented a gold medal by Foody Post, and the presentation will take place soon at a school assembly. Several hundred essays were submitted by pupils of three Xenia junior and senior high schools in the contest and from these, teachers chose several of the best from each class which were turned over to the committee.

Members of the Legion committee and school officials numbered the essays and presented them to the judges, who made their decision according to the coded number without knowing the names of the writers. Judges were Prof. G. J. Graham, Mayor Karl R. Babb and Mrs. A. C. Messenger.

The essays were all written on the subject: "What Constitutes Good Citizenship?" and the contest was part of a program to promote good citizenship which is being carried on nationally by the Legion. The contest closed February 15 and teachers in the schools made the essay contest a class assignment to insure participation.

Although only one prize is being awarded, the judges selected a list of nine others for honorable mention, presented in the following order: Elizabeth Hoog, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hoag; Margaret Ryan, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James J. Ryan; Granville Hudson, 17, son of Mrs. Anna Lucas; Pauline Hall, 16, daughter of Jesse Hall; Mary L. Allen, 17, daughter of the Rev. W. C. Allen; Charlene Wilson, 14, daughter of Clarence E. Wilson; Anita Cherry, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Cherry; Robert Chew, 13, son of Mrs. Lawrence Wilson; Frances Marshall, 17, daughter of Prosecuting Attorney and Mrs. J. C. Marshall.

Each contestant was required to pledge his word of honor that the essay submitted was written by the contestant without help and to give his age. Ages of the contestants were then taken into consideration by the judges in making the selection.

The winning essay follows:

"That this nation under God, shall have a new birth of freedom, and that government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth."—Lincoln.

Fortunately, indeed are we to claim this vast heritage by calling ourselves citizens of this great Republic, but—what constitutes good citizenship? That is the all important question.

From our earliest teaching we learn that a citizen is an inhabitant of a city or town, especially one who enjoys its freedom and privileges, a person, native or naturalized, who owes allegiance to a government and is entitled to reciprocal protection from it.

It is only just that we should expect protection from our government—but we must do all that we possibly can to promote the successful functioning of the law. Self-government is one of the foremost responsibilities of a faithful citizen. Good citizenship begins at home and also in the community in which one lives. It includes first of all, ability for self-government, for no one is qualified to live under a democratic form of government who is not capable of governing himself.

A capable citizen must be skillful in some trade or profession by which he earns his livelihood and cares for himself and his family. One of his chief interests should be to improve his surroundings and the common inheritance of humanity which invariably comes from co-operation in maintaining better advantages for the success of all mankind.

Good citizenship also requires intelligence concerning such matters as health, education, religion, the family, the community, the central of living conditions and the development of liberty.

The question of health is of the utmost concern especially in large cities where there is a multitude of inhabitants, where there is a want of hygiene, one finds mental deficiencies prevalent, chiefly among the poorer classes who, because of ignorance concerning living conditions lack the knowledge of all other fundamental requisites of good law-abiding men, women, boys and girls.

To be a true citizen, one must be true to himself and be God-fearing. Shakespeare says: "Be just and fear not; let all the ends thou aimest at be thy country's, thy God's and truth's."—The State exists for the sake of the citizens, for their peace and prosperity, for their general temporal welfare. The State once it is formed, receives its authority from God through its people.

Hallowed in the minds of Christians is the very idea of public authority in which they recognize some likeness and symbol, as it were of the Divine Majesty, even when it is exercised by one unworthy. A just and due reverence to the laws abides in them not from force and threats, but from a consciousness of duty; for God hath not given in the spirit of fear."

The regular meeting of the Hawkins Community Club will be held Friday evening at the school house. Two short plays are to be given and music furnished by the East High School of Xenia. Refreshments of salad, wafers and coffee will be served. The public is invited.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

GOD'S THOUGHT OF US—For I know the thoughts that I think toward you, saith the Lord, thoughts of peace, and not of evil.—Jeremiah 29:11.

RESULT NOT SO SURPRISING

The Chicago police are reported to have ordered the closing of every "joint" in Chicago. Booze runners and booze selling are to be wiped out.

When certain people were poisoned by the bootleggers of New York City it is said that the police took effective measures to close the offending places of sale.

The brutal and astonishing gang murder occurring in Chicago may have opened the eyes of the administration to the fact that it is impossible to sanction the violation of the prohibition law without endangering the peace and safety of the city's population.

This is true because the more important liquor law violators are the city's worst criminals; potential, if not actual murderers, burglars, highwaymen. To permit them to engage in an illegal trade which fills their purses and provides them with instruments of crime is a suicidal policy. Crime cannot be controlled in Chicago without the suppression of the illegal liquor trade, just as it was always impossible to control crime in that city when the liquor trade was legalized.

The ordinary citizen cannot understand these emergency orders to close places of crime. "Why," he asks, "have the police permitted these places to operate, knowing them to be in violation of law?" This citizen should be told the fact that, generally speaking, violation of law upon a large scale in any city is impossible without corruption of the police, corruption of the courts, or corruption of prosecuting officials. When the officers of the law in New York, Chicago or elsewhere decide to co-operate with each other in effectuating a policy of crime suppression, crime will be suppressed.

The attention of the Chicago citizen may also be called to the fact that there are newspapers in that city the policies of which are exceedingly dangerous to the interests of law and order. The large majority of the inhabitants of Chicago are aliens, foreign-born, or the children of foreign born. They are largely in ignorance of America, its ideals, traditions and customs. These people look for leadership to the press. If they are told that prohibition is a farce, that those who support it are hypocrites, that prohibitionists are brutal and cruel fanatics, determined to force their standards of personal conduct upon everyone else, that resistance to the Constitution of the United States is a stroke in defense of liberty, they believe it and they act accordingly. The American of some degree of education and information knows that these statements are abyssmal nonsense, but the swarming hordes who are new to American citizenship and civilization do not know it.

BOOKS FIT FOR A KING

When Queen Mary went shopping in the "ten-cent store" she bought six "thrillers" and took them home with her, and some of the Britishers are wondering whether King George is going to occupy his period of convalescence with light reading. He might do much worse. When a person is away below par and tired of doing nothing and yet too tired to do much of anything, there are few things that help as much as a colorful story that "reads itself," and makes the hours pass like magic. If the king can sit up in bed and enjoy a series of good juicy detective stories, or if he can get a kick out of them even while lying down and letting some one else read aloud, he is "coming on."

NEW YORK—About five years ago Florrie LeBreton, a star, was the pet of London. Men fought at the stage entrances to shower her with bouquets and gifts, and women adored her. She was known at the time as "the Mary Pickford of England." Then the late Henry Savage imported her to America in a play called "Lass O'Loughlin," which failed almost immediately. Her luck was horrible after that. No matter what she attempted resulted in failure. Show after show closed or she was let out of the cast.

Rather than return to Britain because she thought defeat meant disgrace, the courageous gal assumed another same nadir for six months joined a local Tiller Girl dancing troupe, acquiring, among other things, several routines of stepping.

This week she is the headliner and sensation of the bill at a vaudeville theatre.

Despite the syndicate writers and the Elsie book writers, nobody can give a perfect rule for the getting of happiness. The definite seeking of happiness is less likely to be successful than the forgetting of the quest. In the latter case, happiness sometimes comes as a by-product, unsought and unexpected. There are, however, several very clear causes of unhappiness and they can be avoided. The avoidance may mean sacrifice, but the result is worth the price.

Perhaps one of the chief causes of unhappiness lies in our clinging to the belief that we can "have our cake and eat it, too." We earnestly want peace of mind. We desire freedom from worry and a sense of eternal security. But we are not willing to give up certain temporary pleasures or practices or habits which interfere with our achieving the very thing we are after. We think, somehow, we can figure out a way to have both. We think we will discover some method by which we can have our cake and eat it, too. We try to think around a corner into a straight path. It can't be done.

Of course our lives will always be governed by compromises of one sort or another, but there must be a "final stand" where there can be no compromise.

HER OWN WAY

In one of those columns in a newspaper wherein girls and boys tell their troubles to a woman editor, we find the story of "17" who thinks she is badly treated by her mother and sister because she can't "have her own way." People who are twice seventeen have learned only a little about life. But they have had the experience of the road a little longer. "Seventeen" might stop and try to think calmly for a few minutes. It is more probable that her way is the wrong way than it is that her mother's way is the wrong way. Time cures youth—but youth may be pretty sick while it lasts.

AMERICAN FINANCIAL POLICIES EXPLAINED

By LOUIS T. McFADDEN
Congressman From Pennsylvania

(Louis T. McFadden was born at Troy, Pa., July 25, 1876. He was educated in the public schools of that city and commercial college. Beginning as an office boy in the First National Bank at Canton, Pa., at the age of 16, he gradually rose to the office of president in 1916. He was elected to congress in 1915 and has been re-elected every term since, from the 15th district. He is a Republican and his home is in Canton.)

The Federal Reserve system, as now interpreted by its management, is operating as a central banking system and is so regarded by the central banks of issue of the major countries of the world.

This development has been brought about under the direction of the Federal Reserve board and principally through the Federal Reserve banks, by the new and unexpected possibilities placed on the system as the result of the war and the movement of the world's financial center from London to New York.

This cooperation, however, should be limited to gold movements and stabilization of exchange.

I refer to a trend away from government, state, municipal, mortgage and bond investments. I doubt if anyone in the United States could correctly state whether brokers' loans are too high or too low. Partial payment sales plans have developed into an important element in the whole industrial, economic, and financial structure.

All of this development, which has been so essential to our success as a nation, has made us the world's most influential country, we having not only excelled in the production of national resources and financial leadership, but in the standard of living, raising it to the highest level of any country in the world. This could not have been accomplished except for this thing called American genius. This entire development, starting as a speculation, or which at the time that Alexander Hamilton landed in this country, looked like a speculation, has developed into a very sound investment.

It seems to me, however, after giving very careful consideration to this subject and the attractiveness of the New York money market, could be somewhat improved with little danger of increasing so-called speculation by reducing the discount rate, which would remove a possible burden on industry, commerce and farm.

His mother, it seems, was movie struck, and aspired for an "extra" part and had to bring her baby with her. Davey star, in now the rage, will star in a film called "Sonny Boy."

How to Achieve Beauty

BY MME HELENA RUBINSTEIN

We have heard unlimited commentary on the typical American Beauty, and I, for one, take the greatest possible pleasure in criticizing the term. There is no such thing as a typical American Beauty. To be sure, the great majority of cosmopolitan Americans favor the chestnut-haired, brown eyed types while I have christened "The Mayflower Brunette." But if we are being strictly truthful about origins, we have to admit that the "Mayflower Brunette" was launched from the far shores of England. But they have had the experience of the road a little longer. "Seventeen" might stop and try to think calmly for a few minutes. It is more probable that her way is the wrong way than it is that her mother's way is the wrong way. Time cures youth—but youth may be pretty sick while it lasts.

And in most cases, when you have decided on the stocks you want, buy bonds.

Most probably you haven't stopped to think of the hundreds of types represented just in the span of your personal acquaintanceship. Let's think it over together. Marguerite is fair-haired, with eyes like the cold blue seas of the far northlands. Miriam is olive-skinned, her eyes are dark and melancholy, her face is sharply featured and pointed in outline. Patricia has blue eyes, full of the light and laughter of a good-humored, generous people. And her hair is as black as ever was seen on the north shores of Ireland.

In American women there is not only the sharp beauty of novelty, originality and interest, but the softening shadow of the generation who have gone before. It is individual beauty that American women must cultivate, and I hope that I can show you how easily you can do it. In the first place, you must begin to think in terms of individuality. Instead of thinking how like you are to your ideal screen star or the woman in the white house on the next block, think how different you are—and be glad of it!

The world is full of rubber stamp prettiness, but who wants to be a rubber stamp? Not you, I'm quite sure. So let us get together and talk over your points of divergence and emphasize them in the name of American Beauty!

Behind the Scenes in Washington

By CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON — Capitol Hill, where our national legislature hangs out, will simply sizzle with congressional static for the next six weeks, or thereabouts.

"Static" is right. Congress will not be in session, so there can be nothing coherent about it. Yet nearly all the senators and representatives will remain here, awaiting President Hoover's extra summons, with naught to do but rend the atmosphere in almost a 531-lawmaker power discord.

The new administration's advent will add mightily to the clamor.

Ordinarily congress packs its suitcase and goes home right speedily after inauguration day. Its members may continue to broadcast their sentiments as vehemently as in the present instance, but the stations are so small and widely scattered that the racket dissipates itself, instead of shattering the ether like a TNT explosion.

Gathered all together in the senate and house office buildings—and those only a couple of blocks apart—the legislators achieve the effect of one grand chorus, but with darn little tunefulness about it.

It goes without saying that a president ever announced to a cabinet that satisfied everybody. In fact, it would be impossible to make any statement that would satisfy anybody. If a senator or representative is pleased with one appointment, he is almost certain to be perfectly horrified at some other one. As summing him to be the president's proxy, he usually warmly indorses the whole layout, in his official capacity—on the floor, over at the Capitol building. However, in the event that several of the White House's selections rally do give him sharp, stinging pains, there is not reason why he shouldn't scream with anguish at the piracy of his own quarters—in whichever of the two office buildings they may happen to be situated.

He was elected to congress in 1915 and has been re-elected every term since, from the 15th district. He is a Republican and his home is in Canton.

The Federal Reserve system, as now interpreted by its management, is operating as a central banking system and is so regarded by the central banks of issue of the major countries of the world.

This development has been brought about under the direction of the Federal Reserve board and principally through the Federal Reserve banks, by the new and unexpected possibilities placed on the system as the result of the war and the movement of the world's financial center from London to New York.

This cooperation, however, should be limited to gold movements and stabilization of exchange.

"Static" is right. I refer to a trend away from government, state, municipal, mortgage and bond investments. I doubt if anyone in the United States could correctly state whether brokers' loans are too high or too low. Partial payment sales plans have developed into an important element in the whole industrial, economic, and financial structure.

All of this development, which has been so essential to our success as a nation, has made us the world's most influential country, having not only excelled in the production of national resources and financial leadership, but in the standard of living, raising it to the highest level of any country in the world. This could not have been accomplished except for this thing called American genius. This entire development, starting as a speculation, on which at the time that Alexander Hamilton landed in this country, looked like a speculation, has developed into a very sound investment.

It seems to me, however, after giving very careful consideration to this subject and the attractiveness of the New York money market, could be somewhat improved with little danger of increasing so-called speculation by reducing the discount rate, which would remove a possible burden on industry, commerce and banking in the United States and thus enable our industry to compete on a more favorable basis in the markets of the world.

PARTING IS SUCH SWEET SORROW

BY MME. HELENA RUBINSTEIN

We have heard unlimited commentary on the typical American Beauty, and I, for one, take the greatest possible pleasure in criticizing the term. There is no such thing as a typical American Beauty. To be sure, the great majority of cosmopolitan Americans favor the chestnut haired, brown eyed types which I have christened "The Mayflower Brunette." But if we are being strictly truthful about origins, we have to admit that "The Mayflower Brunette" was launched from the far shores of England. Have you ever tested out the theory of the American Beauty? (I used the term advisedly, for it is only a theory—not at all a fact!) For American women have reaped the rewards of past generations of pioneers. They have maintained the heritage of their fathers who clung fast to the graces and characteristics of the old world they left behind, and added to their store the clear vision, the fine carriage and the beauty that comes to those who live in open lands and commune with the bigness of the earth and the height of the stars.

In American women there is not only the sharp beauty of novelty, originality and interest, but the softening shadow of the generation who have gone before. It is individual beauty that American women must cultivate, and I hope that I can show you how easily you can do it. In the first place, you must begin to think in terms of individuality. Instead of thinking how like you are to your ideal screen star or the woman in the white house on the next block, think how different you are—and be glad of it!

The world is full of rubber stamp prettiness, but who wants to be a rubber stamp? Not you, I'm quite sure. So let us get together and talk over your points of divergence and emphasize them in the name of American Beauty!

Most probably you haven't stopped to think of the hundreds of types represented just in the span of your personal acquaintanceship. Let's think it over together. Marguerite is fair hair, with eyes like the cold blue seas of the far northlands. Miriam is olive skinned, her eyes are dark and melancholy, her face is sharply featured and pointed in outline. Patricia has blue eyes, full of the light and laughter of a good humored, generous people. And her hair is as blue-black as ever was seen on the north shores of Ireland.

In American women there is not only the sharp beauty of novelty, originality and interest, but the softening shadow of the generation who have gone before.

The suggestion is heard on Capitol Hill that Mr. Hoover seems to think he can get sweet music out of the presidential "set" by main strength and awkwardness.

Many a doubt is expressed by political electricians if he can make any such system work no matter how hard he tries.

In their opinion, he will find he has to conform to mechanical limitations, or the White House loud speaker will emit static from the congressional end of Washington until it drives him frantic.

XENIANS PLAYING IN MUSICAL COMEDY OFFERED AT OSBORN

"See You Later," the three-act musical comedy recently presented in Xenia under auspices of the American Legion Auxiliary, will be produced with a different cast at the Bath Twp. Consolidated High School auditorium in Osborn Thursday and Friday nights.

The comedy is being sponsored at Osborn by George E. Dignam Post, American Legion of Fairfield and Osborn, and the leading roles will be taken by Miss Helen Ford and John Collins, who also had the principal parts in the production in this city. The play will begin each evening at 8 o'clock.

About forty-five persons comprise the cast which is made up principally of local talent, including some boys and girls who have taken part in school plays in previous years.

BRYANT COMPANY TO MOVE ON THURSDAY

Transfer of the Bryant Motor Sales Co., local Ford agency, to its handsome new sales and service station constructed at Market and Whiteman Sts., will be started Thursday, according to Thearil G. White, manager.

The removal is expected to be completed sufficiently by Saturday in order that service may be begun again. The show rooms will be completed and a formal opening will be held at a later date.

The Ford agency has occupied its present location in the old Y. M. C. A. building since September, 1915.

A need for expansion was felt and property was acquired at Market and Whiteman Sts., as a site for a new station. The newly constructed building is being rushed to completion and the beautiful structure was recently used for the second annual three-day auto show sponsored by local dealers.

Bowling

Bucks took two out of three games from the Lang Chevrolet Co. in a Recreation League bowling match Tuesday night. The winners tallied 1,037 their final game, only twenty pins shy of the league record for this season. Buck turned in a series of 588 for the Bucks. B. Horner topped Langs with 561. Box score:

FOUNDER OF BUICK COMPANY IS DEAD

DETROIT, Mich., March 6.—David D. Buick, 72, founder of the Buick automobile is dead here almost penniless but still clinging to his dream of millions. He had been ill in a hospital for a month.

Cancer which had wasted his body for years was the direct cause of death, but broke hearted disappointment at the fate which left him poor weakened his resistance against the disease, according to hospital attaches.

Although he complained of his failing fortune until the last he never admitted any one of cheating him of his Buick interests, his physician, Dr. Clark D. Brooks, said today.

Independent Court Tourney In Ross Soon

ENTRIES IN ANNUAL EVENT DUE MONDAY; GAMES MARCH 13-15

Eight Teams Entered;
Awards Made To Winning Teams

Plans for the second annual basketball tournament for independent teams of Greene and surrounding counties, sponsored by Ross Twp. High School were announced Tuesday by A. F. Roush, superintendent of Ross Twp. schools, who also acted as manager of the recent Greene County Basketball Tournament.

The tourney for independent teams, held under auspices of this school last year for the first time proved so popular that the event will again be held this year Wednesday and Friday, March 13 and 15, both afternoon and night.

Entries will close at noon next Monday and the drawings for the first round will take place at 2 p.m. that day.

The entry list will be limited to a maximum of sixteen teams but Superintendent Roush, who already has received entries of eight teams from four counties, believes that not more than twelve teams will compete. Twelve teams entered last year.

The teams in line so far are from Greene, Clinton, Fayette and Clark Counties. Entries have been received from the following independent quintets: Bowersville, Beaver Creek, Ross Twp., New Vienna, South Charleston, Sedalia, Pitchin and the Reco store at Springfield.

Miniature gold basketballs will be awarded members of the team winning the tourney. Prizes for the team finishing second consist of silver basketballs for all members of the team. A regulation basket ball will be given as a consolation prize to the team finishing third.

Three years ago Ross High School sponsored a post-season tourney open to all high school court teams which cared to participate, but a later ruling by the Ohio High School Athletic Association has prevented the staging of any tournaments for high schools other than the annual county events and the state tourney.

The Ross tourney games will be refereed by Matheny of Ohio State, former Springfield High School mentor.

BASKETBALL TEAM GUESTS OF KIWANIS

Members of the Central High School basketball squad and Coach Walter Wilson, Principal F. R. Woodruff, and Superintendent Louis Hammerle were honor guests of the Kiwanis Club, Tuesday evening at dinner at the Elks Club. Mr. Hammerle gave the address of the evening, discussing sports.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXX

The morning after the petting party, Betty Brown learned dancing to attract men. After the death of her parents she dances professionally, but finds the men she attracts this way are of doubtful value. George Harris, a school friend of the sat and sane type, objects to her dancing. When a fight over her favor results in the publication of its details in a local scandal weekly he asks her to stay away from his restaurant. Not so with Andy Adair and several others, who laugh at the incident. With Andy, she attends a gin-drinking, petting party at an apartment, and is surprised in the midst of it by his suddenly taking her home.

The Theater

If you've ever been to the theater, you've almost certainly seen Spencer Charters, who has been at it for thirty-six years and has played more than 600 roles in 479 plays.

Charters used to take his bows over footlights in stock in Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, Newark and points further west. One tour during the '90's with the Thomas E. Shea Stock Co., lasted for seven years.

Charters almost became a movie star. He played the male lead of the second picture ever made by Lubin, the Philadelphia movie pioneer who later amassed millions as a second program name for an actor who doubted Golden thought the name brought luck and rarely opened a show without inserting it in the program somewhere.

Louis Wolheim, famed plug-ugly of the screen, is deserting the movies for one more stage play to be called "The Wrestler."

SHAKESPEARE LOST NONE OF ITS APPEAL PATRONS HERE FIND

Three hundred years from the date of its first presentation at the court of Queen Elizabeth, the great historical tragedy of "Julius Caesar" appears to have lost none of its popularity with the passing years.

The lasting popularity of this renowned tragedy was proved conclusively by its reception when revived by The Stratford Players, a company of seasoned Shakespearean actors, and presented matinee and night Tuesday under the auspices of Xenia Central High School in Jean B. Elwell Auditorium.

Incidentally, what with all the what's-this that has flowed under the you-know since the date of its first presentation, the reason for its astounding vitality is easily understood. It may be ascribed to the subject matter which is of as great interest today as in the days of Shakespeare.

Members of the company which presented the play included such well known actors formerly associated with the late Robert B. Mantell as James H. Hendrickson, John C. Hiskey, John Osgood, Frank Hilliard, Arthur Lewis, Claire Bruce and Maynes Tessenbaus. Nineteen high school students in appropriate costumes also assisted in the production but did not have speaking parts.—P. W. F.

DEATH CLAIMS MRS. JONAS WHITACRE

Mrs. Elvira Whitacre, 74, wife of Jonas Whitacre, died Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock at her home in Centerville, O. Goitre was the cause of the death. She had been in failing health for several years and her condition became serious two weeks ago.

Mrs. Whitacre was born in Virginia April 1, 1854. She lived on the Hoof Road until fifteen years ago when she and her husband moved to Centererville.

Besides her husband she is survived by six children: Mrs. William Watkins near Beavertown; Mrs. Ida Grant and Mrs. Harold Chamberlin of Dayton; Mrs. William Puterbaugh, Centerville; Mrs. Charles Bender, near Osborn and Carl Whitacre of Dayton. One brother, William Dehaven of Clayton, O., also survives.

Funeral services will be held at the M. E. Church of Centererville Thursday at 2 o'clock with burial in Woodland Cemetery, Xenia.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

The appearance at the high school of Judge Charles Edwin Bull, scheduled for Friday, March 15, has been postponed indefinitely. Judge Bull, who is considered an exact double of Abraham Lincoln, has been presenting a playlet entitled "The Heart of Lincoln," in the public schools in this part of the state and was to have appeared here under auspices of the senior class.

After much controversy during which it tried to adopt a new ring, the junior class has voted to use the standard school ring adopted in 1928. The school emblem, the owl, is displayed to advantage on the standard ring. The shanks on the ring are the only parts changed each year. Lion rampants will adorn the shanks of the rings for the class of 1930.

Beginning with this week's edition, the Central High "Review," school weekly, will be published on Fridays instead of Thursdays.

New equipment for experiments in light and sound has recently been purchased for the science laboratory, according to B. F. Cranor, science instructor. This apparatus will be put into use immediately and should prove a great help to the class in physics classes,

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Wooley and family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Pickering and family of Elizabethtown.

Mrs. James Haines of Xenia, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Steve Williams and family.

Mrs. James Jones, spent the past week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Devoe of Xenia. Mr. Devoe has been ill for the past month.

Several from this place attended the funeral services of Henry Toms at Xenia Saturday afternoon.

Several of the neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Beason gave them quite a surprise, Monday evening, when they gathered at their home. The affair was a farewell to the Beason's who are leaving the neighborhood, moving to Mrs. Callie Devoe's farm near Maple Corner. Refreshments of candy and fruit were served and an enjoyable evening was spent.

Sunday School Sunday morning at 10 o'clock, F. M. Buckwalter, superintendent.

No More Gas In Stomach and Bowels

If you wish to be permanently relieved of gas in stomach and bowels take Baumann's Gas Tablets, which are prepared especially for stomach and bowel bad effects resulting from gas pressure.

That empty, gnawing feeling at the pit of the stomach will disappear; that burning sensation in the rectum will vanish, and you will again be able to take a deep breath without discomfort.

That gassy, sleepy feeling after dinner will be replaced by a desire for entertainment. Bloating will cease.

Your limbs, arms and fingers will no longer feel cold or hot because Baumann's Gas Tablets prevent gas from interfering with the circulation. Get the genuine in the yellow package, at any good drug store. Price $4.

WILL PRESENT PLAY AT ANNUAL MEETING OF MILK PRODUCERS

George W. B. Conrad, former Xenian, who is connected with the bureau of claims of the Pennsylvania Railroad at Cincinnati, has been suggested as a candidate for city council in Cincinnati on the City Charter ticket.

When the Cincinnati column of the Cincinnati Post invited suggestions for candidates, Dr. W. M. Springer wrote as follows:

"Many colored citizens feel that they should have a representative in our next council and suggest the name of George W. B. Conrad, attorney. He is president of the Century Club of the Ninth St. Y. M. C. A., secretary of the Interracial Commission of Greater Cincinnati and for many years has been employed in the bureau of claims of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

"He studied at Oberlin and received the degree of LL. B at the University of Michigan. Mr. Conrad is a man of excellent character and large experience and is a credit to the colored community."

The play will be presented at the afternoon session. Little Barbara Jean Mason, will give readings. Charles W. Holman of Washington, D. C., will give an address at the meeting. A new membership contract will be presented at the business session. By-laws of the organization are expected to be amended and report of the annual election of officers will be Interment services for Mrs. Hazel M. Kepler (nee Campbell) wife of Lawrence A. Kepler, who died at her home in Buffalo, N. Y., last Saturday, were held Tuesday in Woodland Cemetery, this city. She is survived by her husband, and a son Lawrence, Jr. The body was taken to the home of her parents-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kepler, Dayton, where funeral services were conducted Tuesday afternoon.

Within the Reach of every woman—health and strength. They're brought to you by Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which is sold by druggists. It will build up, strengthen and invigorate the "run-down," nervous, or delicate woman.

One who has used it remarked:—"I was so nervous I felt like crying all the time. I could not sleep, was always tired, had dizzy spells, no desire to go, my heart was all gone. I did not know what to do. I had no more faith in doctor or medicine. When we moved to Ohio my neighbor advised me to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I got some, also the little cathartic Pill. The next day I felt perfect. Now when I feel tired and nervous I go to my old friend, marked 'Favorite Prescription.' I don't know why so many suffer when there is so much that can be done for all!"—Mrs. J. W. Paxton, 1707 Miles Ave., Warren, Ohio.

A Constant Backache Often Gives Warning of Disordered Kidneys.

Are you always lame and achy—a suffering nagging backache, headache and dizzy spells?

Are kidney excretions too frequent, scanty or burning in passage? These are often signs of sluggish kidneys and shouldn't be neglected.

To promote normal kidney action and assist your kidneys in cleansing your blood of poisonous wastes, use Doan's Pills. Users everywhere endorse Doan's. Ask your neighbor!

50,000 Users Endorse Doan's:

Mrs. J. Helland, 375 Silver St., Boston, Mass., says: "My kidneys didn't seem to act properly. I had dull pains in my back and sides, and I suffered from headaches. My nerves were bad and everything seemed to bother me. After using Doan's Pills, I was soon feeling like a different person."
